

ORGY OF HATE
GRIPS ULSTER
IN IRON HAND

Irish Snipers Pick Off Military Entering Belfast.

CITY IS BARRICADED

Unionist Flag Vies with Erin Tricolor from House-Tops of Town.

Belfast, June 22.—An orgy of hate is sweeping this city. Fast friends last week are now deadly enemies, seeking each other's lives. The whole of Ulster seems on the brink of civil war.

Sniping was resumed tonight. A woman was killed by a sniper's bullet. The Unionists of Belfast are debating a plan to march on the Sinn Feiners in Londonderry.

Troops are guarding the Unionist premises tonight. Sinn Feiners are sniping them from house-tops. Bombs are freely used. Several buildings are burning.

From Londonderry the following telephone message was received: "There is neither sleep nor rest in this city. All are obsessed with the idea of slaughter. Every man with a rifle or revolver is frantic to use it. Snipers from tops of buildings are blazing away at every suspected enemy."

Rival Flogs Flying.
"Barricades have been thrown up throughout the city. Riflemen are firing from behind bags. The Unionist quarters are decorated with Union Jacks, while Sinn Fein dwellings are flying the Republican tricolor. English troops are guarding all trains entering Derry, but there is frequent sniping at them."

"An attempt this morning to raid the mails was frustrated by the military. Two were killed and one is dying. The latter declares he was stood up against a wall and shot by Sinn Feiners, whom he mentioned by name."

Ulsterites are circulating a lurid story about the murder of Howard M. Clay, son of the governor of Derry. It is to the effect that Sinn Fein apprentice boys seized him in the outskirts of the town and demanded that he tell them the whereabouts of Sinn Fein rifles. He failed to give them satisfaction. The Sinn Feiners searched him and found a revolver with ammunition in his pocket.

They then bound and gagged him, threw him on the roadside and riddled him with bullets. For four hours removal of his body was forestalled.

MEXICO SENDS
'COMMISSIONER'

New Government Arranges For Possible Rejection Of Envoy.

By Universal Service.
Mexico has appointed a "high commissioner of Mexico" to be stationed at Washington.

The commissioner, it was announced at the State Department yesterday, is Fernando Iglesias Calderon. He will be accompanied by his sister and his private secretary, Leopoldo Hurtado. Others in his suite are Julio Garcia, legal adviser; Gen. Fernandez MacGregor, counselor; and Daniel Garcia, second secretary of embassy.

Inasmuch as the rule is that any other foreign nation asks whether such a representative would be acceptable to the United States, it is thought here that Mexico already has taken that action. In the event, however, that this government refuses to receive Calderon as representative of the new regime he will nevertheless be received in his capacity as commissioner. The United States policy is to send commissioners to States with which it has not complete diplomatic relations— even to Germany, with whom there is no diplomatic relation at all.

WALSH FRAMING
GOUGING PLANK

Time for Showdown at Hand, Senator Will Tell Democrats.

Aboard Overland Limited En Route to San Francisco, June 22.—A vigorous anti-proteffing plank will be offered to the Democratic national convention by Senator Walsh of Montana, he announced late today. In the Senator's opinion proteffing will be one of the big issues of the campaign. He was not prepared to give out the language of the plank, but said it would be strong.

"If the Democrats come out strong and definitely against proteffing and recommend measures to stop it, they will have no trouble in winning next November," he said. "Here is one phrase that will be used in the wording of the plank I will offer: 'The fight is on between unscrupulous greed on the one hand and public welfare on the other; the time is at hand for a show-down.'"

Double Compensation Awaits Entries
In Herald Salesmanship Campaign
During Next Ten Days of Effort

If you are registered as a member of the Salesmanship Club and prove yourself to be the best subscription salesman in the 14-day drive—June 21 to July 3, inclusive—The Herald will reward you with $400 in gold.

This award is separate and distinct from the sixty-three prizes offered in the main campaign, except that the credits obtained while working for the $400 gold prize, club members are piling up credits on the double-up basis for the $6,000 home, the six big automobiles and the fifty-six other awards included in the $25,000 prize list.

On the other hand if you desire to join the Salesmanship Club now and compete for the extra gold prize you may do so and then withdraw from the race, or you may continue on to the close of the campaign, July 17, and thereby increase your credit total toward the winning of a grand award.

Fill in the entry blank. Send it in today. Get receipt books. Make a start. It is not too late to try. A little extra effort and well directed energy for the remaining time of the campaign will put you "over the top" for the grand capital award.

Travels 6,000 Miles
To Help Democrats

MISS BESSIE AGNES DWYER.

San Francisco, June 22.—In the host of women arriving for the Democratic convention here is one who came 6,000 miles to vote on the party's nominee. She is Bessie Agnes Dwyer, who came all the way from Manila, P. I., as a delegate.

Miss Dwyer was the first woman of her State, Texas, to take a legal degree. She was the first woman to enter the library service at Washington, where she served ten years. She was the first woman to serve on the executive board of the Associated Charities in the islands.

And she's the first woman delegate to a party convention from Uncle Sam's out-post Pacific possessions.

PAYNE PENSION
PLAN APPROVED

Cabinet Heads to Act on Lists for Retirement.

Recommendation that heads of government departments shall determine which of their employees, eligible for retirement, shall remain in the government service, together with the general report of Secretary of the Interior Payne on reclassification and retirement, was approved by those members of the cabinet attending a special meeting yesterday afternoon.

It is understood the plan suggested will be followed in practically all of its details.

Payne's report, outlining a retirement policy for all branches of the government, will affect thousands of government employees.

Attorney General Palmer yesterday informed President Wilson that he has authority to extend the obligations and benefits of the retirement act to employees who have not been classified and who have not Burleson Statement Taken As Proof Administration Backs Fight.

(Public Ledger Service.)
Positive assurance that the administration forces will attempt to write into the Democratic platform a plank calling for a modification of the Volstead act was given here last night by the statement of Postmaster General Burleson that steps must be taken to make the law reasonable.

That Mr. Burleson "speaks by the book" as far as the White House is concerned is conceded here by all elements of the Democratic party, and in addition the Postmaster General has been referred to time after time as the master politician of the Democratic party. His statement in San Antonio could not, it was said here, have been intended merely.

PUBLIC DOPE CURES
FAILURE, SAYS KRAMER

Cure of drug addiction through public clinics was declared yesterday to be a failure by John F. Kramer, Prohibition Commissioner of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, who announced that hereafter such institutions will not have the endorsement of the bureau.

"The net results obtained through the operation of such public clinics appear to have been demonstrated, conclusively, that the cure of drug addiction through such means is a failure," declared Commissioner Kramer.

Mary Gets in Jam; Douglas to Rescue

London, June 22.—Douglas Fairbanks had to resort to his movie stunts today to rescue Mary Pickford, his wife, from the great crowd of admirers who trampled on and nearly crushed her at a garden party at Chelsea.

Elbowing his way through the jam, he shouldered his bride and carried her to safety.

Mary was so unimpressed that she canceled the rest of her immediate engagements.

G. O. P. Campaign Put in Hands of 21;
Harding Turns Down Appeal of Women
To Prod 36th State on Amendment

Hays, Chairman Ex-Officio Of Executive Body Representing All Factions And Including Women, To Conduct Fight.

(Public Ledger Service.)
The active direction of the Republican Presidential campaign was formally placed in the hands of an executive committee of twenty-one members last night. Excepting the name of one member who has not been heard from as yet, the membership includes seven women and representatives of all elements within the party.

A short time prior to the announcement, Warren G. Harding, the Republican Presidential nominee, declined to take any steps to urge ratification by the thirty-sixth State of the constitutional amendment giving women the right to vote. He was visited by about twenty-five members of the National Woman's party, who later expressed great dissatisfaction at the outcome.

Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, was named chairman ex-officio of the executive committee, and Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upham, of Ohio, vice chairman.

Union of All Factions.
The other members were chosen as follows:

Harry M. Daugherty, of Ohio, Mr. Harding's pre-convention manager; Mrs. Katherine Phillips Edison, of California, formerly a supporter of Herbert Hoover; Mrs. Manley L. Fossee, of Minnesota; Jake L. Hanson, of Oklahoma, national committeeman of that State and formerly a supporter of Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois; John W. Hart, of Idaho, who is affiliated with the anti-Borah element in his State; A. T. Hert, of Kentucky, national committeeman of that State and formerly a supporter of Lowden; Chas. D. Hilles, of New York, national committeeman of that State and formerly a supporter of Nicholas Murray Butler; R. B. Howell, of Nebraska, a Roosevelt progressive; Mrs. Jeanette A. Hyde, of Utah; Mrs. Arthur L. Livermore, of New York; Senator Boies Penrose, of Pennsylvania; Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson, of New York, formerly a supporter of Gen. Leonard Wood; Mrs. Christine Bradley South, of Kentucky; former Senator John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts, national committeeman of that State and formerly a supporter of Gov. Calvin C. Coolidge, of Massachusetts for Presidential nomination.

PAYNE LOOMING
AS DARK HORSE

Favorite of President and Enemy of None, Say Prognosticators.

Washington, bereft of Democratic speculation beyond the talk of President Wilson and the third term, is getting a thrill of a little undercurrent boom for John Barton Payne, Secretary of Interior, and Director General of Railroads, as a real "dark horse" candidate. And there are those close to the administration who have been given credit for some measure of political sagacity who do not take the suggestion too lightly.

The speculation which would place Judge Payne in the position of a possibility, if the San Francisco convention develops into its promised deadlock, is based upon his intimacy with the White House and the fact that his star has been steadily in the ascendency. Here are the facts regarding him:

Within the past year or two he has been appointed to the following posts by President Wilson: General counsel of the Shipping Board, general counsel for the Railroad Administration, chairman of the Shipping Board, Secretary of the Interior and Director General of Railroads, as well as holding his position as member of the executive committee of the board of trustees of the Emergency Fleet Corporation. He has his fingers in three important government departments, and hardly a day passes but the President calls upon him for advice or sees him on important matters. It is not an exaggeration to say that Judge Payne visits the White House more often than any other Cabinet member, and more often perhaps than any other official or any Democrat.

Republicans in Bad Way, Entering Campaign, He Insists.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
Chicago, June 22.—Attorney General Mitchell Palmer, passing through Chicago today on his way to the Democratic convention at San Francisco, was "cocky and confident." He said so himself. He also has a grog, along with 250 other men and women aboard the special train. This he also admitted, but there was a reason.

The Attorney General, Mrs. Palmer and the other tourists were compelled to go without breakfast, and as he confessed, "It is tough to be interviewed on an empty stomach."

McCombs' Wilson Attack
Negligible, Says Cummings

San Francisco, June 22.—The attack on President Wilson as "dictator" of the Democratic party by William F. McCombs, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, was characterized as "a negligible factor" today by National Chairman Homer S. Cummings.

"Such sporadic criticism cannot be taken seriously," said the chairman.

HOTELS GET THE TIPS,
CHICAGO COURT RULES

Chicago, June 22.—A new creed was pronounced by Judge Davis in the Municipal Court today to the effect that hotels "may keep the change," not the waiters, hat checkers or bell hops. Frank G. Lloyd sued the La Salle Hotel for $5,000 taken in tips and which he said he had turned over to the hotel. He lost the case, but the judge said he was sorry that he could not decide against the defendants, but as there was no law to back him up the hotel will keep the change.

Woman's Party Delegation Told by Nominee He Cannot Assume Big Stick Attitude and Trespass Upon Rights of States.

(Public Ledger Service.)
The attempt of the Department of Justice to persuade the Municipal Court to reconsider its decision to abide by the decree of the Court of Appeals declaring the Ball rent law unconstitutional and to recognize the Rent Commission insofar as its rent fixing powers were concerned has failed.

Judge Robert H. Terrell, before whom Assistant Attorney General Henry H. Glassie argued, decided late yesterday afternoon, when faced with the mandate of the Court of Appeals, that he would overrule the Department's petition and proceed with landlord and tenant cases in the same manner as before—namely, ignoring altogether the Ball rent law and the Rent Commission.

The mandate of the Appellate Court, which reached the District Supreme Court yesterday afternoon while Glassie and Conrad Syme were trying to convince Judge Terrell that the whole rent act was not held to be unconstitutional, de-

Wilson Sure
Strike Is Over

Decision of Labor Board on Eastern Coast Walk Out, Remedy, Belief.

President Wilson is not expected to intervene and hurry the award of the Railroad Labor Board as a method of settling the "outlaw" strike of railroad workers in Philadelphia, Baltimore and other Eastern cities. The administration, it became known yesterday, is confident that the recent announcement of the board that its award in all railroad wage disputes will be made retroactive to May 1 will have the effect of sending the insurgent yardmen and terminal workers back to work without action on the part of the President.

The fact that the administration is pinning its faith on this procedure developed after yesterday's Cabinet meeting. The request of the railroad brotherhood officials that the President use his good office to hurry the decision of the board was presented to the President by John Barton Payne, Secretary of Interior and Director General of the Railroads.

Secretary Payne and William B. Wilson, Secretary of Labor, believe the workers will return to work as soon as they have been informed of the board's assurances that the awards will be made retroactive to May 1. Both also were inclined to think that the situation in the strike-affected areas had been bettered during the day.

HOUSE VISIT
STIRS LONDON

Constant Conferences Held, But American Refuses All Honors.

(Washington Herald-Public Ledger Service, Special Cable Dispatch.)
London, June 22.—Col. House's visit to England at this time in an unofficial capacity has aroused such great interest among leading men, both Britons and foreigners, that he is in constant conferences. Since the publication in the Times of the announcement of his association with the Public Ledger he has been besieged by callers and invitations to both private and public functions.

Because of his policy of declining invitations to public, official or unofficial dinners in his honor, he declined today to accept an invitation of American business men to a luncheon.

Col. House's mission is greeted everywhere as a departure in journalism and as a recognition of the press as a factor in public opinion.

That a man of his experience should give the benefit of his vast personal acquaintance and knowledge of foreign affairs to the press is looked upon here as the best possible means of getting sound and accurate information to the people. Since Col. House's arrival here there has been nothing but praise for the Public Ledger's initiative.

GEN. SALVADOR ALVARADO.

San Antonio, June 22.—Gen. Salvador Alvarado has been named Minister of Finance in the revised cabinet of the provisional government of Mexico, according to advices received in official quarters here today.

The following is a list of President de la Huerta's other cabinet members, all of whom are said to have accepted their appointments and to have taken the oath of office: Minister of State—Salvador Martinez A. Lorez.

Minister of Communication and Public Works—Pasqual Ortiz Rubio. Minister of War—Gen. Elias Calles.

Minister of Agriculture—Gen. A. I. Villarreal. Minister of Industry and Commerce—Gen. Jacinto B. Trevino.

Boulogne, June 22.—While the allied statesmen in conference here talked as harmoniously in the Villa Belle, overlooking the English channel, as they did a couple of months ago in the Villa Devamant, beside the Mediterranean, and issued communiques concerning the united will of the entente, there is one fact that has penetrated to close observers. True it was written on the walls of the Paris, London and San Remo conferences long ago—when, however, the supreme council convened, but as it was unpopular, it was thickly covered with "dazzle paint" as we once called the camouflage on ships at sea.

Briefly, the truth that has penetrated in a larger measure at Boulogne than elsewhere is this: Today the European situation is out of the hands of the chiefs of the European governments. It is now controlled by the needs of the people

FILIPINOS WANT
WILSON THERE

Would Make Him President Of University of the Philippines.

(Washington Herald-Public Ledger Service, Special Cable Dispatch.)
Manila, June 22.—One of the regents and one dean of the University of the Philippines advocate offering Woodrow Wilson the presidency of the university at a salary of $50,000 or $100,000.

Ignacio Villamor, a Filipino, has left the presidency to accept a seat in the Supreme Court and the regents are seeking an American successor.

The state supported University of the Philippines was established in 1905 and has an enrollment of about 3,000 students. There are colleges of liberal and fine arts, medicine, engineering, law, dentistry, pharmacy, agriculture and music.

No confirmation of the tender of the post of president of the University of the Philippines to President Wilson at a salary of $50,000 a year could be obtained here yesterday either from the White House or the Philippine Mission. Members of the mission said that they had received no word of any such action and that they thought it extremely unlikely that any such step was contemplated.

If the offer is made to the President it will be the second that he has received in the past few months to be filled at the expiration of his term of office. He was invited some time ago to become the president of the Pan-Pacific Union, which is interested in the development of Hawaii and other island possessions of the United States.

MAY NOMINATE
AND THEN ACT
ON PLATFORM

Democrats Face Old-Time Conditions on Eve of Frisco Convention.

FAVORABLE TO PALMER

Attorney General Believed Elastic Enough to Adopt "Moisture."

By THOMAS F. HEALEY.
(Public Ledger Service.)
San Francisco, Cal., June 22.—There is persistent talk among Democratic leaders that the Democratic national convention may nominate the standard bearer before it adopts a platform.

The party has taken such action in the past, notably in 1904, when Alton B. Parker sent his famous "Gold telegram," thereby forcing the convention to reconvene at the moment of adjournment to reconsider the platform.

The talk heard today is welcomed by two elements, although neither will openly admit satisfaction. It is particularly gratifying to the supporters of Attorney General Mitchell Palmer, whose managers desire him as the "Administration" candidate and it is pleasing to the wets who see in the method discussed a means of tying the candidate to at least a "moist plank."

Neither Homer Cummings nor any one else authorized to speak for the party chiefs will discuss the liquor question with any degree of satisfaction. The convention may ignore it entirely and then again it may not. It is an open question.

No Objections to Plank.
Nevertheless, it is said here today that the Palmer supporters would not object to a "moist plank" should it be approved as a party measure after the nomination of their candidate, if he is nominated.

Mr. Palmer is "dry" and his chief associates in the Democratic party in Pennsylvania are "dry," notably Vance C. McCormick, but nevertheless the opinion is stressed that Mr. Palmer would not attempt to set aside any action the convention might take toward pledging the Democratic party to a revision of the Volstead act, such as is favored by the Indiana platform.
